Municipal Profile: Cornwall Prince Edward Island

Introduction

The Municipal Profile Project

This is one of a series of profiles produced in collaboration with the Federation of PEI Municipalities, the member municipalities, and Human Resources Development Canada.

Information for the 30 municipal profiles was gathered from interviews with municipal administrators, from Statistics Canada Census data, from PEI Government publications, and from many other helpful individuals and agencies.

Contact information for this municipality, Human Resources Development Canada, and the Federation of PEI Municipalities may be found at the end of the profile. A list of all 30 municipal profiles is attached in Appendix I.

Interpretation of Census Data

The 1996 Census data were collected either from 100 % of the population or on a sample basis (i.e. from a random sample of one in five households) with the data weighted up to provide estimates for the entire population.

For all census products released, procedures are applied to prevent the possibility of associating statistical data with any identifiable individual. The data are randomly rounded and they are suppressed for certain geographic areas. Random rounding is a method whereby all figures in a tabulation, including totals, are randomly rounded (either up or down) to a multiple of “5” and in some cases “10”. This technique provides strong protection against disclosure, without adding significant error to census data.

Census terms referred to in this document can be found in Appendix II.

Municipal Profile: Cornwall, Prince Edward Island

General Overview

Prince Edward Island is located just off the eastern shore of Canada, in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It is separated from the mainland by the Northumberland Strait.

Prince Edward Island

The Town of Cornwall is located on the Trans Canada Highway, just west of Charlottetown. It is bordered by the North River to the east and the West River to the south and west. Cornwall has a population of 4,291 and covers a land area of 28.1 sq. km. Two-thirds of this area is in active agricultural use.

Cornwall is a service area to over 11 surrounding communities. New businesses and services are emerging in order to service this market.

Medium to long range plans are to encourage retail and light industrial development in the new business and commercial park.

Cornwall is part of the federal electoral district of Malpeque and is in the provincial riding of North River-Rice Point (Electoral District 16).

Cornwall is located within a 30 to 90 minute drive of all major points of access to and from the Island.

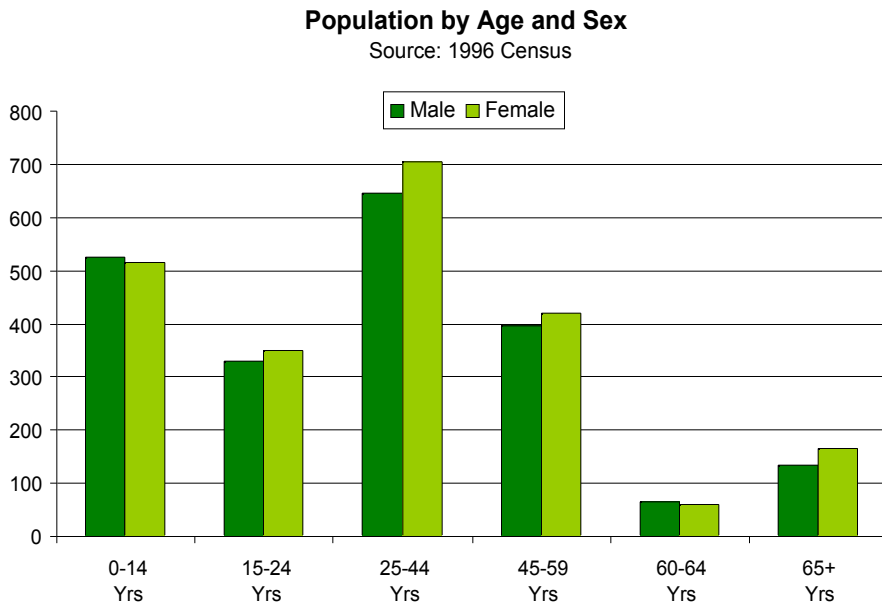

Distances
Confederation Bridge (to New Brunswick)	45 km
Charlottetown	11 km
Summerside	64 km
Wood Islands ferry (to Nova Scotia)	72 km

Population

At the time of the 1996 Census, Cornwall had a population of 4291 people, an increase of 5.9 % from the 1991 Census.

The Census reported a population of 2085 males and 2205 females.

The largest age group is the 25 to 44 category, representing 31 % of Cornwall's population. The 0 to 14 age group is the second largest at 24 %.

Cornwall has a younger population than the provincial average. People aged 65 and over represent 7 % of Cornwall population, compared to 13 % for this age group provincially.

Language and Ethnic Origin

Mother Tongue

The majority of people in Cornwall listed English as the first language they learned at home. Of the 4285 Census responses, 4105 people identified English as their mother tongue, while 150 identified French as their mother tongue.

Knowledge of Languages

All people reported a knowledge of English, and 11 % have a knowledge of both English and French. In addition to English and French, a number of residents reported that they had a knowledge of one or more of the following languages: Italian, German, Spanish, Dutch, Arabic, Russian, and Japanese.

Ethnic Origin

Census respondents were asked to specify to which ethnic or cultural groups their ancestors belonged. They could specify as many groups as applicable. In Cornwall, the largest groups reported were of British (Scottish, English, Irish), Canadian, French and German origin. There were 18 other categories reported, each with less than 3 % of the population. There was a reported total visible minority population of less than 2 %.

Employment Income

The following table represents the employment income for Cornwall residents:

Employment Income
	Number of People	Average Employment Income	PEI Average Employment Income
All persons with employment income by work activity	2500	$20,161	$18,951
Worked full year, full time	1210	$31,966	$30,039
Worked part year or part time	1225	$9,455	$12,025
Males with employment income	1300	$24,404	$22,663
Females with employment income	1200	$15,577	$14,724

Source: 1996 Census

The income figures for males and females are averages of full time, part time and part year employment. The average income for males was substantially higher than for females, 57% above the female average. This is consistent with the provincial average income rates and occurs because a higher percentage of females work either on a part year or part time basis. In addition, one third of all females employed work in; clerical, sales and services, and childcare and home support worker occupations, which are typically the lower paid occupations.

The average employment income for workers in Cornwall was 6% higher than the average employment income for all persons in PEI.

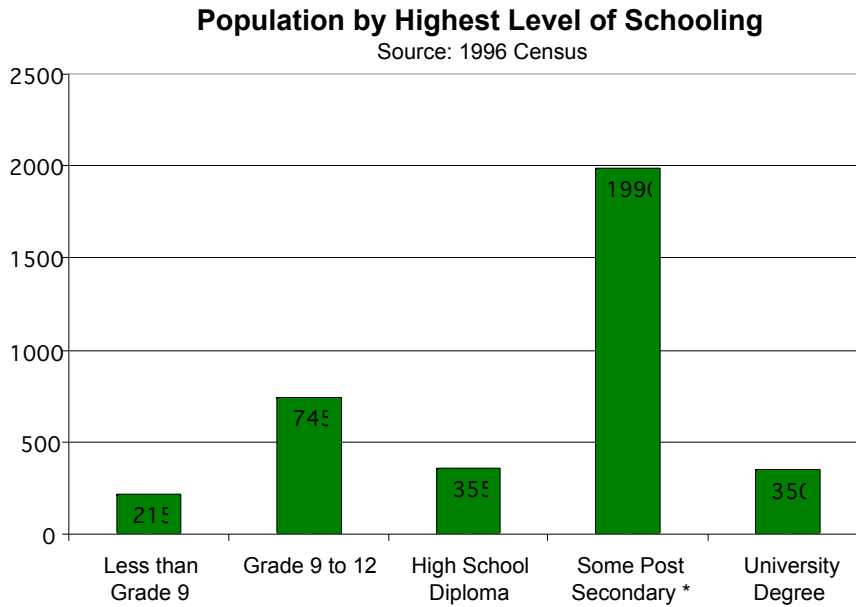

The average income for males in Cornwall was approximately 8% higher than the provincial average for males as compared to 6% higher for females.

There were 1210 persons in Cornwall who worked in full year, full time employment, approximately 48% of all persons with employment income. The average employment income for this group was $31,966, which is 6% above the provincial average.

There were 1185 Census families with an average income of $50,916. This is approximately 8 % higher than the provincial average of $47,125 for Census families.

Education

Of Cornwall's working age population, 15 years of age and older, (3,250) approximately 26% have less than Grade 12 education, and 74% possess a high school diploma or higher. 10% of the working age population have obtained a university degree. Compared to the province as a whole, Cornwall residents have higher levels of education. Provincially, 58% of the population possess a high school diploma or higher.

* Note – the “Some Post Secondary” category includes those people with college certificates or diplomas

Post-Secondary Qualifications

In Cornwall, there were 1555 who reported completing a post-secondary diploma or degree program. This represents 36 % of the Cornwall population, compared to a 29 % provincial figure.

Cornwall had a higher proportion than the province of people qualified in the categories of "Commerce, management and business administration," with 11.7 % of the population, and "Engineering and applied sciences" with 9.3 %. The provincial figures were 7.8 % and 6.9 % respectively.

Post-Secondary Qualifications by Major Field of Study

Humanities and related fields	15	20	35
Mathematics and physical sciences	20	10	30
Engineering and applied sciences	25	0	25

Source: 1996 Census

Approximately 32 % of those with a post-secondary certificate or degree are in the "Commerce, management and business administration" category. The second largest group with 26 % were

"Engineering and applied science technologies and trades". The remainder were spread across seven categories, and ranged from 2 % to 12 % of the total with post-secondary qualifications.

Labour Force Activity

The census reference week was the week of May 5, 1996. The labour force activity reported refers to the conditions during that week. In P.E.I., May is the month in which seasonal activity is beginning to increase as farmers prepare the land, fishers gear up, construction activity picks up and tourism operators begin to prepare for the coming season. Employment reaches its peak in August and remains high through to and including October

Labour Force Activity
	Cornwall	PEI
Total population 15 years and over by labour force activity	3250	103750
In the labour force	2325	70820

Unemployed	215	9760
Participation rate	71.5 %	68.3 %
Unemployment rate	9.2 %	13.8 %

Source: 1996 Census

At the time of the 1996 Census, Cornwall had a working age population which numbered 3,250 persons and a labour force which numbered 2,325. The participation rate was 71.5%, which is higher than the provincial rate of 68.3%

Cornwall's labour force represents 3.3% of PEI's total labour force. The labour force was composed of 2105 persons who were employed and 215 who were unemployed. The unemployment rate during the Census reference week was 9.2%, which is considerably lower than the provincial rate of 13.8%. Cornwall's low unemployment rate may be attributed in part to Cornwall's diversified and year round industry base.

Major Industries and Occupations

Labour Force by Industry

The Census reported that the 2325 members of Cornwall's labour force were distributed across the industrial sectors shown in the table below.

Labour Force by Industry
	Labour Force	% of Labour Force
Retail trade industries	300	13
Accommodation, food and beverage service industries	265	11
Health and social service industries	225	10

Health occupations	100	10	90
Occupations unique to processing, manufacturing and utilities	60	50	10
Occupations in art, culture, recreation and sport	40	20	25

Source: 1996 Census

Approximately 68 % of Cornwall's labour force are in four occupational groups: sales and service occupations; business, finance and administrative occupations; trades, transport and equipment operators and related occupations; and management occupations. The remainder is spread over seven occupational categories, ranging from 2 % to 9 % in each category.

Labour Force by Occupation, Males and Females

58% of Cornwall's male labour force, (1215) are associated with one of the following three categories:

- Trades, transport and equipment operators and related occupation, such as construction trades, 23%
- Sales and service occupations, such as chefs and cooks, 20%
- Management occupations, such as managers in retail trade, food and accommodation services, 15%

64% of the female labour force, (1105) is associated with one of the two following categories:

- Sales and service occupations, such as retail salespersons and sales clerks, 33%
- Business, finance and administrative occupations, such as clerical positions, 31%

Agriculture

The Statistics Canada Agricultural Division reported the following farm activity for 1995:

	Cornwall Area	Provincial Total
Total number of farms	30	2,217
Total area of farms
-Acres	10,098	655,365
-Hectares	4,087	265,217
Total farm capital	$24.7 million	$1,417 billion
Total gross farm receipts	$7.1 million	$349.2 million
Total farm expenses	$5.5 million	$288.6 million

Source: Statistics Canada Agricultural Division, Census 1996.

This area has approximately 1.4% of the total number of farms on PEI and represents approximately 1.5% of the total provincial acreage. Total gross farm receipts in the area were about 2% of the provincial total.

There is also a new window manufacturing plant called ThermoTech Industries.

Transportation and Communication

The Trans Canada Highway bisects the Town from east to west. Cornwall's location along the province's main transportation route between the Confederation Bridge and the Capital City gives it advantages for many types of economic activity including residential development, retailing, tourism, warehousing and light manufacturing.

Housing and Real Estate

The Census reported the following number of dwellings in Cornwall:

Number of Occupied Private Dwellings by Structural Type of Dwelling
Total	1435
Single-detached house	940
Semi-detached house	70
Row house	75
Apartment, detached duplex	10
Apartment building, less than five storeys	120

Movable dwelling	205

Source: 1996 Census

There are also several cottages, vacant developed residential lots, and vacant cottage lots.

The prices and rents vary according to style and area of town. The average Multiple Listing Service list prices for homes in the Cornwall region are as follows, as of 1999:

- $ 51,111 for a 1 or 2 bedroom home;
- $109,577 for a 5 (or more) bedroom home;
- $94,783 overall average.

Source: PEI Real Estate Association

The pattern of development is reflective of the fact that the Town is made up of 3 former communities. The former Cornwall area is the most densely developed region, both residentially and commercially. The majority of the Town's businesses are clustered along or adjacent to the Trans Canada Highway in the former Cornwall area. A second cluster of businesses is located along the Trans Canada Highway adjacent to the North River intersection.

Significant residential developments are also located south of the Trans Canada Highway to the east of York Point Road and to the north of the Trans Canada Highway along the Kingston Road running westward toward East Wiltshire Junior High School.

Education

Cornwall has three schools including a primary, elementary and junior high school. In addition, Bluefield Senior High School is in close proximity to the Town. There are 2 kindergartens and several licensed day care centres in Cornwall.

Health Care Facilities

The Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Charlottetown is a 15 minute drive away. Cornwall has a medical clinic, two dental clinics, two pharmacies and a veterinary clinic.

Points of Service

Provincial Government Service: Liquor Store and the jointly operated Public Library. Internet access is available at the library.
CAP site with Internet access to public.

Federal Government: Post Office.
Cornwall is served by the Charlottetown Human Resources Development Centre.

Municipal Services

The Town provides water and sewer services to developed sites. The North River Fire Department provides fire protection. Police services are provided under contract with the RCMP.

Tax rates for 2000 are $0.75 per $100 for commercial properties, and $0.60 per $100 for non-commercial properties. The annual utility rates are $230 for water, and $220 for sewer services.

Recreation

The Town has a wide array of recreation programs and facilities. There are recreation programs tailored for families as well as each age group, from infants to seniors. There are activities for each season: day camps in summer, skating and hockey in winter. In Cornwall's 14 public parks and playing fields, there are facilities for baseball, softball, soccer, volleyball, tennis, and swimming. Several Parks also contain play structures, swings, sandboxes, slides, and teeter-totters.

Cornwall has established walking trails and the Town has long-range intentions of creating more. With the North and West Rivers forming part of the Town boundaries, there is access to beaches and boating. There are woodland and wetland areas.

Angling

The sportfishing season in Prince Edward Island runs from April 15 until September 15. Brook trout are present in virtually all Island brooks and streams. Tidal waters are also abundant in smelt and mackerel. The West River, running along the border of Cornwall, is one of the best sources of Atlantic salmon in Prince Edward Island, although the salmon doesn't enter Island waters until the end of the season. Anglers can also fish for brook trout in the West River, at the North River causeway, and at Warren's Pond. The causeway is also a good spot to catch white perch.

Cultural Facilities and Events

Cornwall has an annual winter carnival and hosts many sports related events.

Census Definitions

The following definitions are provided to assist readers in understanding the terminology used in the census data in this report. For further explanation or details please contact the Labour Market Information unit of Human Resource Development Canada.

Average Employment Income of Individuals - is calculated from unrounded data by dividing the aggregate employment income of a specified group of individuals by the number of individuals with employment income in that group. It refers to individuals 15 years and over who reported employment income for the calendar year 1995.

Census Family - refers to:

- 1) a now married couple (with or without never-married sons and /or daughters of either or both spouses), or
- 2) a couple living common-law (with or without never-married sons and/or daughters of either or both spouses), or
- 3) a lone parent of any marital status, with at least one never-married son or daughter living in the same dwelling.

Census reference date - May 14, 1996

Census reference week - The census reference week was the week prior to enumeration.

Employed - includes all persons who worked for pay or in self-employment in the paid labour force in the week prior to enumeration. This includes all persons working for wages or salaries, all self-employed persons (with or with out paid help) working in their own business, farm or professional practice, and all persons working without pay in a family farm or business during the reference week. (The “employed “ also includes persons who were absent from their job or business for a variety of reasons.)

Employment income by work activity - refers to total income received by persons 15 years of age and over during the calendar year 1995 as wages and salaries; net income from non-farm unincorporated business and /or professional practice and net farm self-employment income for all jobs held. Included in this is both full time work (i.e. 30 hours or more per week) and part time (less than 30 hours per week) as well as those who worked full year (49- 52 weeks of the year) or part of the year (less than 49 weeks per year) .

Ethnic origin - refers to the ethnic or cultural group(s) to which the respondents ancestors belonged. (An ancestor was defined as someone from whom a person is descended and is usually more distant than grandparent). Respondents were asked to specify as many groups as applicable.

Knowledge of Official Languages - refers to the ability to conduct a conversation in English only, in French only, in both English and French or in neither of the official languages of Canada.
